

After classes ended in turbulent 1968, I left my wife, Janet, to finish teaching as I raced back to Seattle in our new 1968 VW financed by Dean Poor. (Montesi Motor's $1,983.75.)

In the middle of South Dakota, the radio reported the assassination of Robert Kennedy that followed that of ML King. "What is going on?" I asked.

First, enroll in the bar review course. Next, get the draft board to extend deferment through the bar exam.

Then, aged 25½, I was 1-A topping the list for being drafted. Luckily, they lost my file.

Forty year later:

Joe Bell reports that he heard from Del Miller about his recent travel including a trip to Peru and the Galapagos. 2009-03