Nation's 15th Largest Law Firm Continues to Grow in Detroit; Foley & Lardner Adds Five Associates to Detroit Office

DETROIT--Jan. 17, 2001--Foley & Lardner, the nation's 15th largest law firm -- which opened a Detroit office last October -- today announced the addition of five new associates to its growing list of attorneys in the firm's Detroit office.

"These new associates bring a broad range of experience and diversity to our Detroit team," said Gerald J. Neal, partner-in-charge of Foley & Lardner's Detroit office. "We have worked hard to recruit the most talented and capable attorneys to serve our clients as we continue to grow our Detroit office. These attorneys are wonderful assets to Foley & Lardner's Michigan presence."
