

Managing the translation business.

Many, many translators, many, many languages.

Being Translation Manager at Linguistic Systems, Inc. (LSI) "one of the premier providers of language translation and interpreting services in the US. 57 years of experience and a carefully curated network of more than 7,500 translators worldwide. We have broad and deep knowledge across multiple industries including legal, life sciences, medical, business, marketing."

And saying goodbye to a translator friend.

Boston Globe 7-14-2012:

"Sally Costello, whose deep faith sustained her for the 18 years since she had become ill, died of breast cancer June 20 in her Rockport home. She was 69.

Costello worked as a part-time translator for Transtek and later with Linguistic Systems, based in Cambridge.

After five years as an in-house translator of French, German, and Russian for Linguistic Systems, Mrs. Costello began operating a home translation agency in 1992.

'Mrs. Costello was absolutely a big asset to the company because of her reliability and superb English writing style,' said Hugh Oechler, a colleague at Linguistic Systems."

<https://www.bostonglobe.com/metro/obituaries/2012/07/13/sally-costello-translator-with-facility-for-languages-and-strong-faith/Alh3mYAm8sVLbZRqQ59IHN/story.html>